Texas Emigration and Land Company!
220 Acres of Land for $20—100 Acres of Land for $10.

THE TEXAS EMIGRATION AND LAND COMPANY having derived its title from the late Republic of Texas, by contract with the President thereof, under authority of the special acts of Congress, approved 4th February, 1841, and 10th January, 1842, granting lands to Emigrants, will continue to give 220 acres of land to families, and 100 acres of land to single men over 17 years of age, until the 1st day of July, 1848, consistent with the title shall pay $20, and the single men $10, for the surveying fees. A family, as defined in our Contracts, must consist of—"A man and his wife, with or without children."
"A widower with two or more children; if males under 17 years of age, if females, unmarried."
"Two single men over the age of seventeen years, each one being entitled to 100 acres."

On his arrival in the Colony, the Emigrants should forthwith apply to the Agent of the Company, Mr. Henry O. Hollingsworth, residing at Stewartsville, in Denton county, who will at all times be ready to assist him in the selection of his land, and enter the same books kept for that purpose, and give him a certificate therefor; which certificate will be evidence of his having settled in the Colony in the time.

Our Grant lies in the North-Eastern part of Texas, between the 32nd and 33rd degrees of Latitude North, and 10th and 22nd degrees of Longitude West, from Washington; beginning on the south side of Red River, at a point 12 miles east of the False Quailita, running thence due South 100 miles, thence East 164 miles, thence North 100 miles, thence West 164 miles to the beginning, having a front on the meanderings of Red River of nearly 200 miles; and includes within its limits the upper and lower Cross Timbers, and the head waters of the Brazos and Trinity Rivers, the Trinity being navigable for Steam Boats of light draught, from the interior of the Colony to the Gulf of Mexico, into which it empties, south 25 miles from Galveston, and Red River, to the Mississippi, affording an outlet for the surplus productions of the country. This portion of Texas is peculiarly adapted to the growth of wheat, experience within the last two years having proved the fact, that it will produce 40 bushels to the acre, weighing 65 to 70 pounds to the bushel. Indian corn, rice, barley, oats, wheat, and fresh potatoes, peas, beans, melons, garden vegetables of all kinds, cotton, hemp, iron, and the celebrated mustard grass which covers the prairies and upon which cattle subsist, and keep fat during the winter, and require only to be occasionally salted and kept together, to rear them in great numbers.

The planting season commences in February and continues until July.

Colonel William Myers, who removed there from Garrard County, Ky., last fall, says, in a letter dated 28th May, 1847—
"I will not venture to tell my friends in Kentucky that the land here was better than the best land in Kentucky, because they would not believe it; but now I assert it, for the soil is deeper, being in many places five feet, and the highest land in Kentucky is a plain in it. I verily believe that around the forks of the Trinity lies the largest body of fine-land in America."

A message from the House, by the Clerk, announcing the passage of certain bills, &c.

High Court of Impeachment.

The Court being duly opened for the trial of Jno. A. Duff, late Surveyor of Perry county, for high crimes and misdemeanors in office, the counsel for the said Duff, moved the court not to take further jurisdiction of this case, but to dismiss the same, upon the following grounds and for the following reasons:

1. Because it appears from the evidence which has been given to the court, that on the 19th day of September, 1843, Jackson G. Combs was, on that day, duly appointed and commissioned Surveyor of Perry county, in the place of John A. Duff, the respondent, and that afterwards, to-wit: at the November term, 1843, of said County Court, the said court took the oaths of office, and executed bond as required by the then existing laws of this Commonwealth.

2. That said Jackson G. Combs, has ever since exercised the duties of said office of Surveyor of Perry county, and he, and none other, has ever since been recognized by the proper authorities of this State, as the Surveyor of Perry county.

3. That said Duff has not, since the appointment of said Combs as aforesaid, been Surveyor of Perry county.

4. That said John A. Duff, was not, at the time the articles of impeachment were preferred against him by the House of Representatives, nor at any time since, been Surveyor of Perry county.

5. That said John A. Duff, was not, at the organization of this court for his trial on said articles of impeachment, nor at any time since, Surveyor of Perry county.

6. That this court cannot pronounce any judgment against John A. Duff, as Surveyor of Perry county, when he is not in office at the time of pronouncing such judgment.

The motion having been argued by Mr. Harlan in favor of it, and Mr. Speed against, on motion, the court took a recess until 3 o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

The evening session was consumed by Messrs. TOWLES and MOORE, arguing against the motion, and Mr. HARRIS in favor of it. At 6 o'clock the Court adjourned until morning.

On motion, the Senate adjourned.

Also, reported back the resolutions offered by Mr. Hughes, in relation to costs in vexatious suits, &c., with the opinion that they ought not to be adopted.

Mr. COMBS stated the grounds upon which the report was based.

Mr. HUGHES advocated the resolutions, and urged that the bill might be so drafted, as to place a barrier to the bringing of suits of a vexatious character, for libel, assault, slander, &c. He instanced, that two men meeting in the street, the one might insult by his language the other, and the second retorting by an assault, the first would commence a suit and obtain perhaps a verdict of one cent, and thus involve the person actually in the right, in a large bill of costs—so, in like manner with slander. He advocated the necessity of the passage of such a bill as these resolutions contemplated, and insisted that it would result in the suppression of many vexatious suits. A worthless fiend in human shape would intentionally insult and slander a respectable man, for the purpose of instigating him to commit an assault, in order that he might have an opportunity to maul him in a heavy bill of costs, by the recovery of barely one cent; he proposed by these resolutions, to increase the amount to five dollars, as the sum necessary to carry the costs against the defendant. It was equivalent to saying, that the Jury should have the power of saying whether insulting language or slander should be plead in excuse or justification of the assault. He moved to re-commit the 2d resolution to the Judiciary committee, with instructions to bring in a bill.

Orders of the Day.

The apportionment bill being first in the orders.

Mr. WRIGHT moved to discharge the committee of the whole from the further consideration of said bill; carried.

Mr. BARLOW moved to take up out of the orders the bill in relation to the Penitentiary; carried.

Mr. BARLOW moved that the committee of the whole be discharged from the further consideration of said bill; carried.

A Senate bill to provide for a settlement with the Keeper of the Penitentiary, and for the election of a Keeper or Keepers for the next six years.

The question being on the adoption of the amendment of the gentleman from Logan (Mr. Bowling), making the Keepership a salaried office, &c., and the Keeper to be elected by the General Assembly.

Mr. COMBS moved to amend so as to make the Keeper pay the interest on the whole amount invested, and not make it payable, as the bill proposes, by the partnership—the State being made by the bill a two-thirds partner with the Keeper.

Mr. WINTERSMITH explained the bill as it now stood, &c.

Mr. COMBS advocated the amendment proposed by himself, and examined and explained the difference between this bill and the one under which the present Keeper was elected. He would at a proper time move to strike out $5,000, the sum guaranteed as profits to the State, and insert $6,000.

Mr. COLLINS had at first taken the same position as the gentleman from Fayette (Mr. Combs), but he found by examining the whole bill, that the provisions by which the Keeper was to be benefited were balanced by subsequent sections placing obligations additional on the Keeper, &c. He was opposed to the amendment.

Mr. COMBS thought if the bill was so amended as to save $800 to the State, there would even then be no difficulty in the election of a Keeper responsible and willing to take the partnership.

Mr. HARDY explained the bill as he understood it. He thought it provided for a fair, equal and just distribution of the profits in proportion to the amount of duties and obligations imposed upon the State and Keeper respectively. He was in favor of the bill as it is and he should vote to sustain it.

Mr. NEWELL judged of the future by the past; the State never had received more than was guaranteed to it, in the bill. There had been an offer made to the House by a person with good sureties, to take the Penitentiary and pay therefor $6,000, and he did not know why the State should not avail itself of such an offer, especially when it would save to the people the sum of nearly $2,000.

The question being on striking out; the yeas and nays being called, it was lost, 22 to 63.

One o'clock having arrived the House took a recess of one hour and a half.

EVENING SESSION.

Mr. WINTERSMITH moved an amendment, by striking out the words "net profits" in the 2d section, and inserting "as part of the expenses," in order to retain the amount of $5,000, as the minimum sum the State would accept as net profits; adopted.

Also, a similar amendment, in the 15th and 17th sections; adopted.

Also, a verbal amendment, in the 17th section; adopted.

Also, an amendment to the 9th section, making the amount of $5,000, the minimum that the State would accept.

Mr. NEWELL moved to strike out "the State" wherever it occurs in the bill, and insert $6,000.

Mr. HARDY could not vote for the amendment because he could have no evidence that it would afford more than a living at the present amount now given to the Keeper. The bill now provided for $5,000 absolutely, and as much more as the State's proportion of the profits should amount to.

Mr. NEWELL said the State had been offered $6,000, and he wished to make the bill secure that amount to the State.

Mr. S. YOUNG was in favor of the amendment, and advocated it.

Mr. ELLIOTT thought there was more care exhibited by the members over the candidate for Keeper, than he exhibited for himself. He thought the reduction of the net profits of the Keeper of $1,000 by the adoption of this amendment, would not reduce the number of candidates; but every one of them would still remain an anxious canvasser for the office. The Legislature was passing annually new laws making more crimes punishable by confinement in the Penitentiary, and in that way the profits would annually increase in the proportion to the increased number.

The State would never get one farthing more than was guaranteed by this bill, and he was therefore in favor of increasing the amount to $6,000. He advocated the amendment at some length.

Mr. HARDY was opposed to the amendment, because dollars and cents should not be the only object; but the House should be willing to pass such a law as would enable the Keeper to treat the convicts humanely, and give them moral instructions, and a few of the little comforts of life, and thus prepare them for better deeds when they left the institution.

Mr. ELLIOTT replied to the gentleman from Barron, (Mr. Hardy). He did not wish to reduce the little comforts of life, or the moral instructions or humane treatment of the convicts. He again advocated at some length, the amendment.

Mr. T. D. BROWN was opposed to the amendment. He wished to pass a bill that would do justice to the Keeper, in such a manner that the convicts could have proper treatment. The object was not to make money for the State; but it was to reform the convicts, and prepare them for better deeds when they leave the institution. He did not advocate the bill, or oppose the amendment upon personal grounds; for any feelings of sympathy for any former Keeper, or present candidate for that position.

Mr. NEWELL advocated the amendment at some length. He did not wish to make any alteration in the other part of the bill, or the treatment of the convicts.

Mr. GRAINGER thought the gentleman from Floyd, (Mr. Elliott), had predicated his estimation of the profits, upon the number of rogues which he expected to get convicted under the new penal enactments. To judge of the future by the past, we ought not to expect more than $5,000. The present Keeper had placed the Penitentiary in its present good condition, and thus fitted it for making the profits which would enable him to pay the amount of $5,000, and he thought that enough. He advocated the bill and opposed the amendment at some length.

Mr. JOHNSTON having been on the committee called upon to make a statement of the facts in the case, as they appeared before the committee. He did not vindicate or advocate the claims of any man; he thought that the adoption of the amendment would have the effect to deprive the convicts of their little necessities, moral instructions, &c., and would result in final injury to the State.

Mr. GAINES was for making all the money he could, and he would give the Penitentiary to the man who would give the most for it, &c., &c.

Mr. CHRISTOPHER said the additional $1,000 must be made from one of two sources—either from the increased labor of the convicts, or in the advanced price of the manufactured articles. The latter could not be expected and for the State to urge the former would be impolitic and unjust. The object of punishment was twofold, and one was to reform the convict and that should be the prime object of punishment, which could not so well be done under the amendment proposed as under the bill as it now stood.

Mr. S. YOUNG would not do any thing to effect the humane treatment, moral instruction or little comforts of the convicts and this amendment did not propose to do it and he therefore was in favor of the amendment, and hoped it would be adopted.

Mr. PRATT had had some experience in keeping a Penitentiary. The best mode for a State of disposing of the Penitentiary, was by leasing it out to the highest bidder, and appointing a Warden to guard against the inhuman treatment of the convicts.

He contended that these convicts should be used to the best advantage and in such a manner as would afford the most profit to the State. He did not believe that one in a hundred could be effectually reformed. He believed that it was not necessary to inflict stripes upon convicts, but the Keeper should gain their good will and govern them in that way.

He had been Keeper of the Penitentiary in Indiana and gave an eloquent and interesting account of that institution, the manner in which it had been conducted by him, and the manner of treatment of the convicts.

Mr. COMBS was glad the gentleman from Scott (Mr. Pratt) had been induced to give to the House the valuable information which he possessed. He had travelled over most of the United States, and his observation was corroborated by the gentleman's experience.

He now moved to refer the bill to select committee of seven, with instructions to report on Friday a bill to lease the Penitentiary to the highest bidder.

Mr. WINTERSMITH did think that the proposition of the gentleman from Fayette, (Mr. Combs), was the most monstrous one he ever had heard. He thought the whole matter altogether wrong, and not worthy of an argument in opposition.

It was revolting to him to see even slaves struck off at auction; but to strike off white men by the wholesale, would be far beneath the high dignity of the State of Kentucky. He opposed the amendment at some length.

Mr. COMBS was surprised at the holy horror of the gentleman from Hardin, (Mr. W.) on this subject. This was a common sense matter; it was the turning of the labor of thieves, murderers, robbers, cut-throats, &c., which the State had taken from the community and placed in a penitentiary, into profit to the State, against whose laws they had transgressed. It was a fair proposition to lease out the labor of the convicts to him who would pay the most for it, instead of going in partnership with the lessee.

Mr. COMBS then withdrew his motion to commit.

The question being on striking out $5,000, the yeas and nays being called, it was lost, 28 to 58.

The question being on the adoption of the substitute offered by Mr. Bowling.

Mr. BOWLING said his conviction as to the propriety of adopting the substitute, had not changed since he had offered it. He thought the system a good and politic one, and one that was pursued by sister States. The State of Tennessee had in successful operation, an institution of this kind, and it paid a considerable amount for revenue.

He thought if gentlemen who had exhibited such sympathy for the convicts would now step up and vote for a substitute that would obviate any inducement to mal-treatment, they would show the truthfulness of their professions. He advocated the adoption of the substitute at some length.

The substitute was then lost.

Mr. GAINES moved to strike out $1,000 as the salary of the Clerk, and insert $800; lost.

Mr. COLLINS moved to amend, by adding that clothing, &c., should not be given to convicts who were pardoned by the Governor, or who did not remain in the prison one year; carried.

The bill as amended, was then passed.

Single copies of the DAILY COMMONWEALTH neatly enveloped, can be had at the Counting Room of this office for two cents per copy. Single copies of the WEEKLY COMMONWEALTH, containing full reports of the Legislative proceeding, can be had for four cents per copy.

McCLUNG'S SPEECH, delivered before the Colonization Society, is now ready for delivery at the Counting Room of the Commonwealth Office—Price $3 per hundred.

We regret to learn that the member from Davies (Mr. Wall) is detained from the House by sickness.

The Senate is now sitting as a High Court of Impeachment, for the trial of JONAS A. DUFF, Surveyor of Perry county, charged with high crimes and misdemeanors in office. There are a large number of witnesses in attendance, and the examination progresses very slowly. It is not possible, therefore, to give an opinion as to when it will be closed. The case excites but little interest beyond the neighborhood interested; and the trial, no matter how it may terminate, will result in nothing, except to prove the utter fallacy of prosecuting subordinate officers before the Senate sitting as a Court of Impeachment.

A new bill chartering the Mobile and Ohio Railroad Company, has passed both houses of the Alabama Legislature, and this it is thought will become a law, as it has been rid of the objections urged by the Governor against a former one, and which he vetoed.

A copy of this bill is now in the possession of B. E. GREY, Esq., of the Senate, and will be presented to that body in a day or two.

THE WHIGS OF FAYETTE, held a meeting at the Court House in Lexington, on Monday last, for the purpose of appointing delegates to the Convention, which will assemble in this place on Tuesday next, to select candidates for Governor and Lieut. Governor. Fifty delegates were appointed, who are expected to vote for those persons, who in their opinion, may be best qualified to bear in honor and continued triumph, the Whig flag of Kentucky. A resolution was adopted, approving the call by the Whig members of Congress, for a National Convention, to select candidates for the Presidency and Vice-Presidency. The same delegates appointed to attend the gubernatorial Convention, were requested to attend as representatives of the Whigs of Fayette, in a District Convention proposed to be held in Lexington on the 3d Monday in March, for selecting a delegate to the National Convention for the 6th Congressional district.

The Washington Union is in ecstasies at the prospect of division in the Whig ranks, which the venerable editor of that paper affects to see so clearly marked in the political horizon. The consultation meeting, recently held by the Whig members of Congress, having for its object the settlement of the time and place for holding the Whig National Convention, was the subject of a long and adroitly written editorial, to prove that meeting the sure precursor of Whig defeat; because, in the judgment of the Union, it will result in placing two Whig candidates for the Presidency in the field. If such a state of things could, by possibility, arise, there would be some reason in the exultations of the Union and the lesser lights of the Democratic press; but we are not willing to believe that the Whigs have so far forgotten their duty to the country, as to jeopard the triumph of principles for which they have contended for years—principles too, which they assert are necessary to the stability and permanency of this Government, by dividing and distracting the party, and destroying its power and usefulness, in a mere contest for men.

But, we find among our friends, not exultations at the prospect of division, but apprehension and alarm, from a fear that the official organ has more ground for its calculations and exultations, than ought to exist. Upon what foundation does this alarm rest? Is it believed that Mr. Clay and Gen. Taylor will both be candidates for the Presidency? Surely they will not; they must not. Both of them are Whigs; their friends are members of the Whig party. The friends of Gen. Taylor will, we have every reason to believe, cheerfully and promptly come into the Whig National Convention, where the Old Hero's claims and prospects will be fairly weighed and canvassed by his Whig friends of the Union; and where, if he shall appear to be the "man for the occasion," he will most unquestionably receive the suffrage of every Whig delegate. With the nomination of a Whig Convention, nothing could prevent his election. But, on the other hand, if, contrary to our expectation, the friends of General Taylor, shall obstinately and capriciously refuse to go into convention—determine to stand out against it, and run him against, and in spite of a nomination, he will be beaten—the nominee will be beaten—the Whig party will be prostrated, and the reign of Locofocoism will begin in good earnest. Or, if Gen. Taylor's friends shall go into the Convention, and the friends of Mr. Webster, and McLean, and Scott, and Corwin, at the North, shall determine to nominate some other man than Gen. Taylor, disregarding the Old Hero's claims, we shall most assuredly be beaten. For Mr. Clay and his friends, we think we can speak. They will not, we are sure, jeopard the Whig cause. They will stand by the Whig party. Suppose, however, that we shall find them resolved to make the race without regard to the consequences. In either one of the cases we have stated, defeat and disgrace is as certain as fate.

Contemplating precisely, such a state of case as we have here presented, where by division, and the running of a plurality of candidates, we shall find ourselves shamefully defeated, the correspondent of the Baltimore Patriot, says:

"For one moment let every honest and patriotic Whig in the country suppose this to be done, and done too when the divisions of the Locofoco party were such as to convince every body that the union among the Whigs, and only a united effort, would produce a glorious Whig triumph, and what would be the state of feeling in every such Whig's breast? What would be the amount of criminations, of accusations and re-accusations that one Whig of the Whig party would bestow upon the other?"

"These things should all be taken into consideration now, while it is time. Concessions, reasonable and honorable, should be made among the Whigs in all sections of the country. They should bear and forbear, one section, and another section—indeed, all sections! Do we want defeat, certain overwhelming defeat? Then let certain leading Whigs in different parts of the Union resolve that Mr. Clay shall be run, whether or no—whether he consents or not, and whether he shall be elected or defeated, and at the same time let other equally zealous and indiscreet leading Whigs in different parts of the country resolve that Gen. Taylor shall be run, whether or no—whether he consents or not, and whether he will be elected or defeated?"

"This is the way to bring about certain defeat to the Whig cause! Is it right? The parties in the one case have the same independent right thus to act as have the parties in the other case! But is it right that they should do so? Is it right not only to jeopard, but to defeat the Whig cause, merely for the sake of running and standing by either Henry Clay or Zachary Taylor, great and deserving as each is in an eminent degree, in the forthcoming Presidential campaign? Would Mr. Clay himself say it would be right? Would General Taylor? Both cannot be elected. Better, far better, that neither should be, if some other Whig could be united upon, than that they should both be run and defeated, or, than the Locofoco party should again triumph!"

"These are my sentiments, and I am free to avow them. I hold the triumph of the Whig party paramount to the elevation of any man, however great and deserving, to the Presidency. What are men weighed against principles? What are the great men of the Whig party, if they will not yield their own claims to preferment for the triumph of their party? I call upon the Whigs everywhere to ponder and reflect upon the existing state of things, and to begin now to cultivate union, harmony and concert of action, in view of the fact, the great 'fixed fact,' that but one Whig can now be elected President—that if two Whigs are run, neither can succeed—and that if but one is run, he can and will be elected!"

It is well to "ponder and reflect upon the existing state of things;" but we cannot believe that the danger is as great as is apprehended by many. We cannot believe that a case can be made out, by which Mr. Clay and Gen. Taylor will be placed in an attitude of hostility to each other, as candidates for the Presidency. "If," says the correspondent of the North American, "Mr. Clay should consent to the use of his name, which has in no manner or form been indicated or authorized, and he should receive the nomination of a National Convention, we have the best reason for believing, that Gen. Taylor, under no circumstances whatever, will permit his name to enter into the canvass. If, on the other hand, in view of the condition of the county, the Convention should select Gen. Taylor as our standard bearer, Mr. Clay would cordially and zealously co-operate in his support, or in that of any other nominee who may be chosen."

GENERAL COMBS.—If the Whig State Convention should nominate a Green river man for Governor, the selection of a candidate for Lieut. Governor could not fall upon a better, a truer, or a more worthy Whig than Gen. LESLIE COMBS. His nomination would give universal satisfaction to the Whigs of Northern Kentucky, as well as to the whole State. Ardently devoted to the cause—a soldier—a gentleman—his name would add strength to the ticket, and do much towards securing a triumphant and glorious victory.

We make the suggestion of this distinguished gentleman, in the event that a southern man receives the nomination for Governor. The name of Gen. Combs is co-extensive with the State—his brilliant talents and self-devotion to the cause, have elicited the highest praise; and while his nomination would evidence a just appreciation of his services, it would be gratifying to those who have fought long by his side, and encouraging to others who admire his integrity of purpose and amiability in the private walks of life.—Kentucky Whig.

FROM VERA CRUZ.—The schooner Decatur arrived at New Orleans on the night of the 2d, from Vera Cruz, having left there on the 24th ult. The only item of news brought by her was a report of Santa Anna having issued a pronouncement calling for 20,000 men, &c., to continue the war. The report was said to have been brought to Vera Cruz by an express which arrived there from the interior, a few hours before the Decatur sailed.

Robert D. Murray offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted: Resolved, That the delegates appointed at this meeting, be no further instructed than to go for the most available persons who are good Whigs, to run for the offices of Governor and Lieut. Governor at the approaching election. Jas. C. Rush, Esq., offered the following resolution, which was also unanimously adopted: Resolved, That this meeting is in favor of the nomination, by said Convention, of Gen. ZACHARY TAYLOR, as a candidate for the next Presidency, subject to the decision of a National Convention, if one should be held, if not, subject to the decision of the people in November next.

On motion of Mr. Robert D. Murray, it was ordered that a copy of the proceedings of this meeting be sent to the Editors of the Louisville Journal, Morning Courier, Frankfort Commonwealth, Kentucky Register and Kentucky Reveille, for publication in their respective papers.

Taylor's Celebrated Female Bitters,

A Certain and Innocent Cure for Suppressed, Painful and Excessive Menstruation, Chlorosis or Green Stickness, Leucorrhoea or Whites, Barrenness, &c. THESE BITTERS have been used by Dr. Taylor in an extensive practice for twenty-seven years, and have recently been proven in many parts of the country to be the most valuable Medicine ever known for restoring female health. Females of every age will find them to be a never failing remedy in all cases of Suppressed Menstruation, bringing about regular, easy, and healthy menstrual evacuations. In the critical periods of life, when there is an effort of nature either to set up or arrest the monthly sickness, they are essential to health, warding off Dropsies and Consumptions, which are so common to those stages of life. The general health is so improved by their use that Barrenness cannot exist under their influence. The Proprietor of this Medicine is confident in the belief that in every curable case, this Medicine, if fairly tried, will effect a cure; and all he asks is a trial. FIT'S VEGETABLE EXTRACT.

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR EPILEPTIC FITS, OR FULFILLING SICKNESS, CHOLERA, SPASMS, &c.

It is well known that from time immemorial, Physicians have pronounced Epileptic Fits incurable. This has led all their skill, and the boasted power of all medicine, and consequently thousands have suffered through a miserable existence, and at last yielded up their lives on the altar of insanity. Physicians of every age have pronounced this disease incurable. The proprietors of the Vegetable Extract, however, feel no delicacy in saying, that it can be cured. The cure, therefore, respectfully invite Physicians and all others who are interested, to examine the testimony which is here offered. If it is deception, let it be exposed; but if it is true, then in the name of humanity, no longer let it be said that Epilepsy is incurable.

FIT'S VEGETABLE EXTRACT.
For sixteen years, I have been tested by many persons who have suffered with this dreadful disease, and in every case where it had a fair trial, it has effected a permanent cure.
Col. Desnoes, of Yonkers, New York, states that his daughter has been afflicted with the most severe Epilepsy, and has been cured by the use of the Vegetable Extract.
Mrs. J. Bradley, 115, Orchard street, New York, states that she has been afflicted with Epilepsy for many years, and has been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Extract, and that she has been cured by the use of the Vegetable Extract.

Read the following remarkable case of the son of WILLIAM SCOTT, Esq., of Philadelphia, afflicted with Epileptic Fits 25 years and 10 months. After travelling through England, Scotland, Germany and France, consulting the most eminent Physicians, and expending for medicine, medical treatment and advice, three thousand dollars, returned with his son to this country in November last, without receiving any benefit whatever, and was cured by using

A Preparatory Department is organized in connection with the Institute, in which boys of any age are taken, and are subjected to the same Military discipline as the Cadets.
The position of the Institute, at the Franklin Springs, near Frankfort, Kentucky, (recently occupied by the Franklin Institute), is admirably adapted in every respect to Academic purposes, the locality being airy and healthy, the mineral waters, the buildings elegant, extensive and commodious, and entirely apart from the contamination and multiplied influences, which surround a large city or village residence.

The Academic Year will be divided into two Sessions of twenty-one weeks each.
